The cultural visit to Canaletto exhibition has been a very interesting introduction to this meeting, very appreciate from all the participants, because through the paintings of Canaletto (and other contemporaneous painters celebrating the beauty of Venice in 18th century) we had the opportunity to appreciate all customs, architectures, atmospheres, heritage of venecian people during that time, even during the time of Carnival, so that we could see also the cultural heritage from a dyamical point of view, comparing the different behaviour of customs and traditions, so that culture could be viewed as an ongoing process of behaviour’s dynamics.

● Friday 20th of February 2009

- ✓ 9:00 – 12.30 Venice sightseeing and Carnival event
- ✓ 12:30 – 14:00 Lunch in Venice
- ✓ 14:00 – 20:00 Free time in Venice

Great sunny day in Venice for Carnival 2009 called Carnival suggestions. A lot of beautiful masks all around the unique city in the world completely on the water, and great suggestions and atmospheres in S.Marco square with a lot of events: theater presentations, masks contests, buskers, musics, folklore and shows. We appreciate also the local cousine in a typical “trattoria” (trattoria da chinellato) just few meters from the bridge of Sighs and Duke Palace.

In the afternoon we talked about the points of the agenda, with decisions taken you can find at the end of this report.

Dinner in a very special place in the center of Treviso, in front of the nice main river of Treviso, Sile river, in the very new and suggestive University area.

● Sunday 22nd of February 2009

- ✓ 1. Carnival event – cultural heritage on the mountains in Sappada town – folkloristic groups, dances, typical local food

Other great sunny day spent on the mountains, reached by a minibus living Treviso in the early morning with all the participants. We have been in Sappada, a very pleasant village in the heart of Dolomiti mountains, famous all over the world for their beauty and colours. A lot of snow enriched our visit drowing all the landscapes: houses, streets, mountains, trees, and after a lunch in a very typical restaurant with great local food of the ladin tradition (ladin is a minority of peoples living on the mountains of north-east of Italy, with their own language, very different from Italian language, and recognized as protected minority language from the Italian State as other 5 other languages in Italy). In the afternoon from 14.30 to 16.00 we appreciated and enjoyed the sappada's carnival, very special and traditional with local masks, typical of this village, wood masks and folkloritic groups animating the event and creating an amazing atmosphere with musics, dances and tradicional cakes and hot wine.
